

Spirit of Jefferson.

Charlestown, Jefferson County, West Va.

TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 29, 1878.

THE SOUTH.

An exchange, says the N. Y. Day-Book, estimates that the actual material loss to the region of the country scourged by the yellow fever this fall is not less than $200,000,000, and this is doubtless a very low estimate.— Splendid stands of cotton will be lost for want of hands to pick it, while the cessation of business in cities and towns and on the railroads and rivers has occasioned enormous losses, which cannot now be computed.— Beyond expression, this has been a terrible year for the people of the Lower Mississippi valley. Some people talk in a melancholy way and express the belief that the South will be utterly, irremediably ruined. That is an impossibility. The South has been swept by the flood, the pestilence and the sword, yet she came up out of the depths with a firm step and a hopeful heart. Temporarily crushed, the South may be, but destroyed—never!

Martin's majority, 7591

The above full table of partially official returns from the Congressional election in this district, swells Mr. Martin's majority to the handsome sum of 7,543 over Burr, 11,282 over Thomson, and 3,691 over Burr and Thomson combined. This, as the Wheeling Register says, "is an increase of nearly one-half over the majority by which Mr. Martin carried the district in 1876, and is extremely complimentary to him, and certainly this District is entitled to the banner this time." The complete official returns of the election in the First Congressional district give Wilson a majority of 3,469 over Hubbard.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for November beautifully concludes a beautiful volume.— The number opens with a bright little paper decrib'g a "Free Kindergarten" in New York City, with exquisite pictures by Miss Curtis, of real children involved in the enchantments of Froebel's wonderful system.— As if to contrast the children of barbarism with those of civilization, the same number contains a very interesting and attractively illustrated paper by Henry W. Elliott on "Wild Babies," from Alaska to the Gulf.— With the single exception of the paper on David Teniers—fifth in the series of "Old Flemish Masters"—the illustrated articles in this number are all American. The Editorial and other departments are as interesting and entertaining as usual.

WINCHESTER AND VICINITY.—From the Times we clip the following:

Capt. Seth M. Timberlake, living on the Red Hill farm, has a pear tree which has bloomed and borne fruit twice this year.

The display of machinery and farming implements at the Winchester Fair was so much larger than usual as to form one of the most attractive features of the exhibition. Mr. D. F. Shoemaker was the largest exhibitor in this department, showing a full variety of machinery and implements, of the most approved kinds, as indicated by the awards made him.

An eminent divine, who has had the most ample opportunities for full and correct observation, pronounces that Charlestown has (with the exception of Danville) made more substantial comparative progress since the war than any place in the two Virginias.

If the reverend gentleman had extended his visit thitherward he would have given the palm to Martinsburg. Since the war the march of improvement in our beautiful city has been unprecedented, one building, that of the Grand Central hotel, costing more in its structure than all the improvements put together in Charlestown, with the town thrown in.—Martinsburg Statesman.

The reverend gentleman had been in Martinsburg but a few weeks ago, and has been there often before. He is not a resident of Charlestown; but is a native of an adjoining county.

The last issue of the Runyon Intelligence, in its notice of the Hampshire Circuit Court, just closed, contains the following:

The case of Hozekiah Rodrick vs. the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, removed into this Court from Jefferson County, instituted to recover damages for injury to a race horse of plaintiff, was tried elaborately, through three days— Counsel for Plaintiff, Col. A. Monroe and Hon. C. J. Faulkner; for Defendant, Geo. E. Price, of Keyser, and William L. Wilson of Jefferson. The case was ably argued before the Jury, who found a verdict for the defendant.

The Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., of West Virginia, met at Parkersburg on Wednesday last, and adjourned on Thursday. The following officers were elected and installed: Thomas W. Fleming, Fairmont, Grand Master; J. F. Moke, Keyser, Deputy Grand Master; Robert S. Brown, Jackson County, Grand Warden; Thomas G. Steele, Grafton, Grand Secretary; William R. Kelley, Parkersburg, Grand Treasurer. The next meeting will be held in Wheeling.

DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.—A perfect model of excellence is Demorest's Magazine for November—full to overflowing with the most charming illustrations, accompanied by a magnificent chromo, and replete with the best reading matter and full fashion notes.

PEN, INK AND SOISSORS.

—Hon. John S. Carlisle died at his home in Clarksville Thursday morning.

—There are 60,000 commercial travelers, or "drummers" in the United States.

—An assassin shot at King Alfonso in Madrid Friday evening, and missed him.

—There is a poplar tree on the island, in Washington, that sheds moisture like rain.

—The Grand Lodge of Masons of this State will assemble in Wheeling on November 12th.

—The yield of the Belmont vineyard, in Warren county, Va., this season, was 15,000 gallons of wine.

—On the 18th instant snow fell about two inches deep on the Alleghany mountain near Hartmannsville, Mineral county.

—The distillery of Jacob Lowman, in Augusta county, Va., with ninety barrels of whisky, has been burned. Loss $10,000.

—Olive Wendell Holmes, author of the "One Horse Shay," has been elected an honorary member of the Carriage Builder's Association.

—"Ah," sighed a hungry tramp, "I wish I was a hound. He's nearly always got a bit in his mouth, while I haven't had a bit in mine for two weeks."

—J. H. Williams of Harrisonburg, Va., has invented and applied for a patent for a ventilating cigar box, which he claims possesses rare advantages.

—"When a man's chin whiskers turn gray before the hair on his head does, it shows which part of him has done the most work," observes a philosophical exchange.

—The Globe-Democrat of St. Louis announces that Samuel J. Tilden is engaged to be married to a St. Louis belle, and that the wedding will take place within three months.

—The Trinity Sunday School of Baltimore has invited the "Rustics" of Harrisonburg, Va. to visit them on the 16th of November, and participate in several singing contests.

—The storm of Tuesday night extended along the whole Atlantic coast, and was at many points very destructive. In Chesapeake Bay there were several shipwrecks, and many lives lost.

—At a political meeting, in Philadelphia, one night last week, some one threw a large stool at Speaker Randall, who was addressing the crowd. The Speaker's escape was very narrow, as the stool struck a door immediately behind him. No arrests were made.

—Col. David Goff, of Beverly, W. Va., died on Saturday, October 19th. He has been prosecuting attorney of his county two or three terms; a member of the Virginia Legislature, and was the present State Senator from that district, his successor having been elected at the late election.

—The U. S. Supreme Court, according to the reassignment on its calendar, will next month hear arguments involving the constitutionality of all laws heretofore made on the question of polygamy in Utah. The decision will involve the legality of all laws—national, state or territorial—to crush out the Mormon mode of life.

—Harry, a son of Mr. Braxton D. Avis, formerly of this place accidentally fell into a ditch by wall near Charlestown, on Thursday last week, and came near drowning. He was rescued by his father, who, missing the boy, and suspecting he had fallen into the well, jumped in after and saved him.

[Harrisonburg Spirit.]

—In the competitive military drill at the Lynchburg (Va.) Fair, on Thursday, the Lynchburg Home Guards, the Lynchburg Artillery, the Danville Grays and the Staunton Artillery entered, the Staunton Artillery being accompanied by the old Stonewall Band. The Lynchburg Home Guards won the gold medal donated by Faulkner & Craighead.

—The death of Benj. H. Latrobe, of Baltimore, is announced. He was, perhaps, the oldest and most distinguished civil engineer in the United States. He was for many years the chief engineer of the B. & O. Railroad. His brother, John H. B. Latrobe, has been the senior counsel of the B. & O. Railroad for forty years, and is still living.

—An election for members of the first branch of the Baltimore city council took place Wednesday. The democratic candidates in each of the twenty wards of the city. In six wards there was no opposition to the democratic nominees. The democratic vote was 23,159; opposition 4,499; total, 27,658; democratic majority, 18,700.

—It is estimated that it will take Brumidi, the artist, two years to complete the fresco work in the rotunda of the Capitol, at Washington, upon which he is now engaged. His nerves are strong and his general health unshaken by the exception that his legs are growing a little weak, necessitating his being hoisted to his high perch with block and tackle. He is upward of 70 years old, and he has painted over an acre of space in the Capitol building.

The Adrian (Mich.) Times records the death, in that place, on the 12th instant, of Mr. Charles Jackson, some years ago a well-known resident of Charlestown. The Times says:

"He had resided in Adrian about 25 years, and during that time has been connected with the interests of the place, although for a number of years past he has not taken an active part in any business. He was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, March 31, 1816, and was therefore in the sixty-third year of his age. He represented his ward satisfactorily in the Common Council for several years, but aside from this he never held, we believe, any public position. In all his life here and his connection involving interests of large trusts, no man has ever questioned the honesty and integrity of Charles Jackson. In the commercial world his word was deemed as good as his bond. His monument will be an honest man." He was kind and charitable.

Now is the time to get bargains at Dalgarn's. He has just received a very large invoice of Glass and Queensware, at a much lower price than has ever been offered to the people of Charlestown and vicinity. Also, Boots and Shoes, Men and Boy's Wear, Groceries and Notions in large variety. All goods in his line can be bought on the very shortest margin—his motto is quick sales and short profits. Call and examine stock and be convinced Country Produce taken in Exchange for Goods.

THE NURSERY for November abounds in cute illustrations and a variety of pleasant stories, etc., in both poetry and prose. Send $1.50 to John L. Shorey, 36 Broadfield st., Boston, and get it a year for your children.

BABYLAND reaches us for November bright and sparkling as a new penny, with several fine little stories for the young, illustrated verses, &c.

MOTHS IN CARPETS.—The carpet moth makes his favorite home about the bindings and corners of the carpet. It is this in an grain or three-ply fabric, successful war may be waged on him by wringing a cloth out of hot water, laying it over the bindings and edges, and ironing with as hot an iron as can be used without scorching. This will destroy both the moth and their eggs, and after a few such visitations they disappear. But this steaming and ironing process is not effected with Wilton's, Moquette or any heavy carpetings. The heat cannot thoroughly penetrate them, and ironing injures the pile of the velvet. Still it is best to draw the tacks occasionally, and lay the edge of the carpet over—one side only, or a part of a side at a time—and steam and iron it on the wrong side. Then, besides this, the floor should be wiped as far under as the arm will reach with a cloth wrung out of strong and hot cayenne tea, and before re-nailing, the binding and edge of the carpet should also be wiped with it, rubbing them hard.—Some have recommended sprinkling salt around the sides of the room before nailing down the carpets, but we should think this objectionable, the salt absorbs moisture from the air and thus causes too much dampness.

Reliable Evidence.

Ma. H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir:—I will most cheerfully and gratefully testify to the great number you have already received in favor of your great and useful medicine, Vegetine.

VEGETINE
I do not think enough can be said in its praise; for I was troubled over thirty years with that dreadful disease, Catarrh, and had such bad coughing spells that it would seem as though I had a knife in my throat.

VEGETINE
I do feel to thank God all the time that there is good medicine as Vegetine, and I also think it one of the best medicines for cough, cold, croup, whooping cough, and all the ailments of the throat, and I advise everybody to take the Vegetine for these ailments, as it is one of the best medicines that ever was.

VEGETINE
Ever yours, Mrs. L. Goss, Cor. Magazine Street, Cambridge, Mass.

VEGETINE
GIVES Health, Strength, AND APPETITE.

VEGETINE
My daughter has received great benefit from the Vegetine. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to her friends.
